Welcome to BUENOS AIRES

Buenos Aires is the Capital of Argentina. It approximately has 3 million inhabitants (almost 12 million counting Gran Buenos Aires), mild weather, with few months of intense heat or cold, which allows walking and getting to know the city any time of the year.

Buenos Aires is an international business center and the amount and variety of national and international companies helps the insertion of the University's students. The city is characterized by its innovation and trend rhythm. A beacon of design for Latin America, Buenos Aires is the ideal place to begin your professional career.

Buenos Aires is also the Tango capital of the world as well as the birthplace for many world known writers. Jorge Luis Borges, one of the most outstanding writers of the Twentieth Century shaped his works in the never-failing cultural and creative surrounding of the city. Astor Piazzolla and Carlos Gardel arose from Buenos Aires to be known around the world.

The activity in the city is constant with lively streets day and night, even during working days. Buenos Aires's nightlife begins right after midnight and goes on until dawn. The cultural offer is vast: restaurants, theaters, movie theaters, museums, outdoor activities, cafes and sporting events represent a wide spectrum of entertainment for everyone.

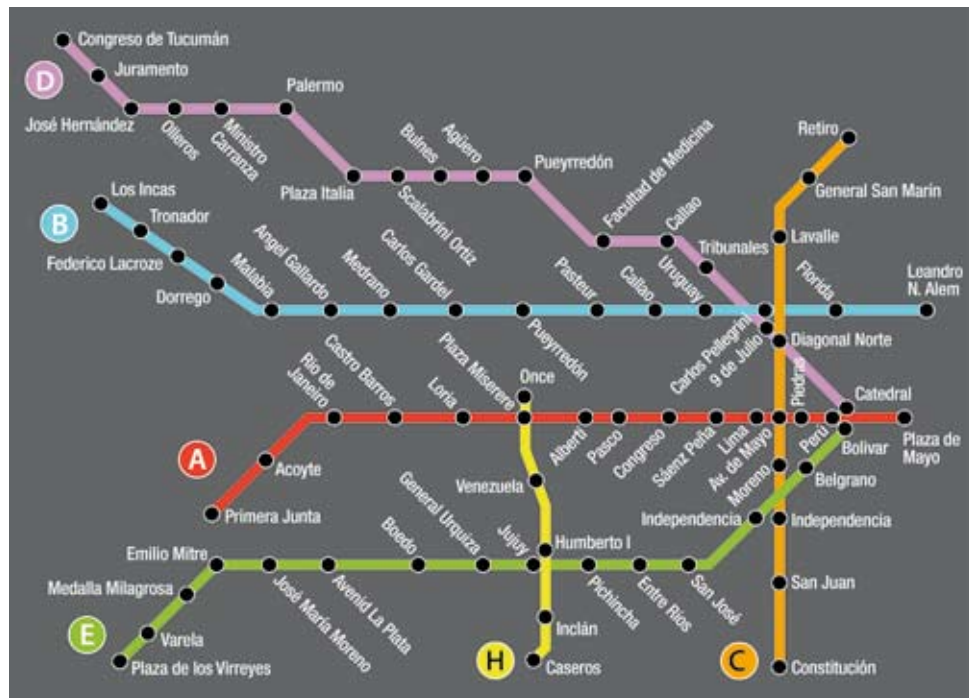

TRANSPORTATION

A. SUBWAY

Subway lines work from 8:00 am to 10:00 pm. The ticket is $1,10 and you have to buy it at the departing station.

Subway Map ▶

B. BUSES (CALLED COLECTIVOS IN ARGENTINA)

Buses are a fast and cheap way of getting around the city of Buenos Aires. Buses are available all day but after midnight there are less frequencies.

Tickets start at $1,10 being more expensive when there are longer distances.

C. TRAINS

The railroad network has an extension of 400 kilometers that spread through Capital Federal and a big part of Gran Buenos Aires.

The ticket is $0,80 and can be purchased at train stations.

D. TAXIS

Taxis are a very common means of transport in Buenos Aires. It is easy to find them on the street or they can be telephoned (Radio Taxi). The cost depends on the distance and time of travel. The initial fare is $3,80, and for every minute or 150 meters it adds $0,38.

Buenos Aires'

TOURIST SITES

■ CAMINITO

Is located in La Boca's neighborhood.

How to get there: Buses: 20, 25, 29, 33, 46, 53, 64, 152.

This street is a favorite among locals and visitors. Its houses are typical of La Boca with plate walls painted in different colors. The shape of Caminito (Little Path in English) is because it follows a stream that flowed till the beginning of the Twentieth Century. The street owes its name to Gabino Coria Peñalosa y Juan de Dios Filiberto's famous tango. In 1959 Caminito officially opened as an outdoors museum.

■ PLAZA DE MAYO

Is located between the streets: Bolívar, Balcarce, H.Yrigoyen and Rivadavia in Monserrat's neighborhood.

How to get there: Subway: A Line \(Plaza de Mayo's station\), D Line \(Catedral's station\), E Line \(Bolívar's Station\).

It is the oldest square in Buenos Aires and it is named as a tribute to the Revolution of May 25th, 1810. It is surrounded by Casa Rosada (home of the National Government), Cabildo, the city's Government Palace and the Cathedral.

Buenos Aires NEIGHBORHOODS

Neighborhoods Map ▶

SOME NEIGHBORHOODS:

■ PALERMO:

This neighborhood is filled with tree-lined streets and squares.

In the last years it had a big growth in its commercial and cultural activity. A new generation of designers uses their stores to display their most avant-garde clothes. This development, that transformed Palermo into a creative center of Buenos Aires, has also been reflected in the appearance of many international, ethnic and eclectic restaurants.

The main buildings of Universidad de Palermo's campus are located in this neighborhood.

Palermo Areas:

Palermo Chico: east of Av. Del Libertador, between Cavia and Tagle.

Palermo Hollywood: in Palermo Viejo, north of Av. Juan B. Justo.

Palermo Soho: in Palermo Viejo, south of Av. Juan B. Justo and around Plaza Serrano (officially called Plazoleta Cortázar).

■ RECOLETA

Recoleta is a residential neighborhood with many historical and architectural landmarks. It is one of the most elegant and expensive neighborhoods of Buenos Aires, where you can find mansions, embassies and luxury hotels, including the world known Alvear Palace Hotel.

■ LAS CAÑITAS

During the day it is a quiet area and during the night its restaurants and bars give Las Cañitas a cool and fashionable vibe.

■ PUERTO MADERO

The city of Buenos Aires was born and grew in a close relationship with its port. The docks, built in the 1900, were recycled keeping their identity and were converted into office buildings, shops and housings, shaping a tourist attraction site. In this neighborhood there are vast green spaces: two big parks and smaller squares that are very close to Costanera Sur and the Ecological Reserve.

■ LA BOCA

It is in the southeast limit of Buenos Aires. The name of La Boca (the mouth in Spanish) was given because it is located at the mouth of Riachuelo in Río de la Plata. It is one of the most visited neighborhoods. In this area one can find paintings and crafts related to tango, and on Sundays couples are seen dancing in the streets. Boca Juniors's stadium is one of its most representative buildings.

■ SAN TELMO

It is one of the oldest neighborhoods in the city. It is characterized by its colonial houses and its cobbled streets. In this neighborhood there are numerous churches, museums, stores and an antiques fair on Plaza Dorrego. During the weekends it is filled with street artists, puppeteers, magicians and living statues.

HOUSING

There are different options for housing in Buenos Aires. The choice is usually based on the duration of the stay and different levels of comfort and privacy.

■ 1) Apartment Rental

(Recommended for students)

It allows students to explore Buenos Aires's typical lifestyle, and is the most comfortable and least expensive option for those who want to stay in Argentina for an extended period of time. For your safety and efficiency, we recommend renting through a real estate agency. Some prefer to deal directly with the owners because it is cheaper.

■ 2) Hoteles y Apart-hoteles

(Recomendado para estudiantes de programas ejecutivos o para estadias cortas)

Los hoteles son la opción preferida para viajes cortos. Los apart-hoteles ofrecen una alternativa válida para familias o grupos que prefieren alojarse juntos. Suelen incluir una cocina pequeña, y en ocasiones más de una habitación.

■ 3) Family Stay

Staying with a family is recommended for those students coming from a country where no Spanish is spoken. The international student is able to experiment everyday life in Buenos Aires while sharing a household with an Argentine family; and while it allows them to practice the language, it is not the option that provides the most privacy and independence.

Some tips

- Take some time to look for housing: the more time you take the better will be the property you decide on.
- Real estate agencies tend to charge a fee of approximately a month's rent (it is a one time thing at the beginning of the lease)
- We recommend always setting the rent on Argentine Pesos.
- Some aspects to take into account at the time of choosing:
 - Rent! Total price (including utilities and expenses) | Closeness to transportation | Furnishing | Size and conditions | Appliances | Do they take pets?
- Ask if the apartment will include air conditioner, Internet, phone line, etc.
- If possible, try to go to the appointments with a person living in Buenos Aires or someone who knows the city's real estate market.
- It is customary that the owner or real estate agent asks for a deposit (it is usually a month's rent) to cover for possible damages to the property or its contents. When ending the lease, and if the property is in good conditions, the student must receive a complete refund.
- Rent is usually paid in advance.
